T1
Long straight uphill will make big demands on the power unit, with T1 a reasonably quick and challenging right hander at the end. The uphill helps the braking but it is a short apex and drivers have to focus not to run too wide.

T2
Undulating longest straight on the track with heavy braking into T2 of Remus. Slow right hander which will give the brakes quite a workout despite being uphill.

T3
Another decent straight with the downhill, relatively fast T3 of Schlossgold at the end, featuring an interesting camber to challenge the drivers. Braking is a challenge due to being downhill, out-braking easy here.

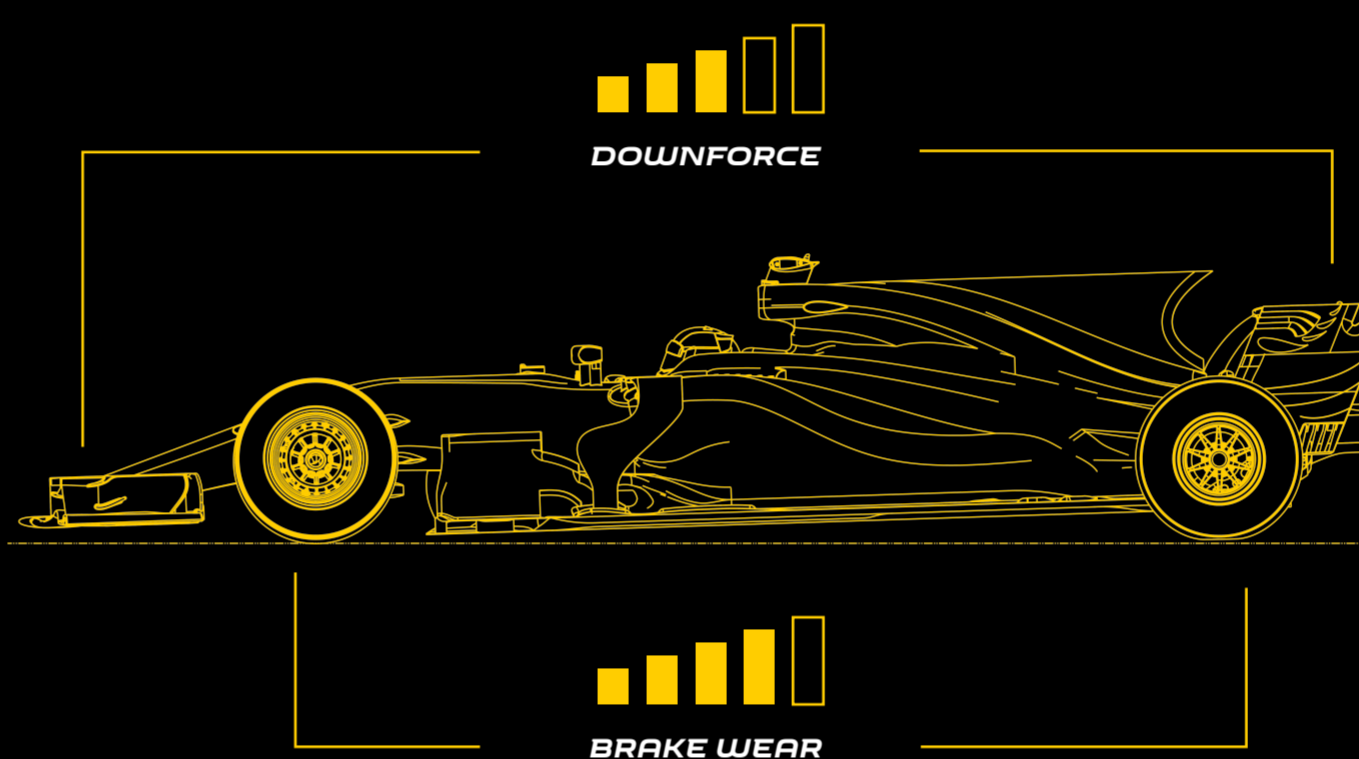

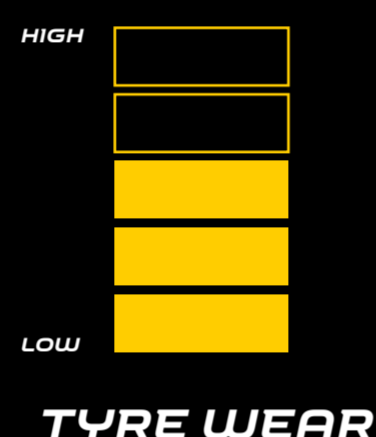

T5
Good exit of T3 opens up the quick right-hand kink (T4) leading into T5 a long and fairly fast left opening up a mini straight.

T6
Fast left as the driver clings on for grip using the run off kerb to open up the fast right curve which leads into another straight.

T8
Blind entrance with the brow of the hill at Rindt, a fast right hander, down two gears, creating momentum for the final corner, using wide exit to widen the corner.

T9
Vital to carry as much momentum as possible to carry the speed onto the straight across the start-finish line and then uphill to T1.
